State Man Before Lobby Committee

Hill, Pine Bluff,
On Stand Today To Tell of Dealings

Only Delegate From State —Was Named As Treasurer.
HAD EXPENSES PAID
Could Not Tell Committee of Amounts Paid Out of Funds.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP) — J. R. Grady, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, today declined to give the senate lobby committee his list of "common law" "corrupt practices" which he had secured in previous testimony, explaining that in his opinion senators from states from which only a small federal revenue is derived should have but little to say on tariff legislation.

Grady's remark about the senators prompted his recall by the committee. He said today he was convinced it was improper to make public the list of senators, and that he would not criticize elected public officials.

Yesterday Grady submitted to the committee a list of certain states which, in his opinion, should not be given consideration in tariff legislation, but he refused to give the preferred list.

Thos. A. Hill, Pine Bluff, Ark., treasurer of the national committee of State Legislators, followed Grady on the stand.

A former speaker of the Arkansas House of Representatives, Hill, in response to questioning about the methods of the organization in Washington in 1927, said that J. A. Arnold, manager of the Southern Tariff Association, advanced the necessary funds and that the idea for the meeting originated with Arnold.

Hill testified that he received $212.00 and was the only delegate from Arkansas. He was appointed treasurer by Lee Satterwhite, of Texas, then president of the association, he said. J. W. Kirby, of Houston, is now president, told him that all funds to the organization would be deposited in Washington to the credit of the treasurer. The witness said his books would not show to whom money was paid, only the totals.

"Do you mean to say there is no way to check up on the money paid out?" Caraway asked.

"I could write to the people and ask them if they would give me the information," Hill answered.

Stock Market Is Still Going Down

Distress Liquidation Puts Prices To New Low Level Again.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP) — The stock market closed with prices at the bottom today after a storm of distress liquidation had carried scores of leading issues down from one to twenty dollar bids. Trading was again an enormous volume and the ticker was a foot or more behind the market at the close.

No active business or financial condition appear to explain the continued storm of change.

Agents Approved In 55 Counties

70 Quorum Courts Expected To Appropriate Funds.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 13. — Quorum courts of 50 counties have made application to carry on the farm extension program over the state, and indication that approximately 70 out of the 77 counties in the state will not make funds for this present agricultural work, it was stated at state headquarters of the extension bureau in Little Rock.

Among the counties making applications are: Benton, Clark, Hot Springs, Randolph, Van Buren, Ashley, Carter, Boone, Bradley, Calhoun, DeWitt, Cleveland, Conway, Craighead, Crawford, Crittenden, Cross, Dallas, DeKalb, Franklin, Fulton, Grant, Greene, Izard, Jefferson, Lafayette, Lawrence, Lee, Lincoln, Logan, Madison, Marion, Miller, Mississippi, Monroe, Nevada, Ouachita, Perry, Pike, Polk, Scott, Sevier, South Sebastian, Union, White, Woodruff, Polk, Independence, Johnson, Madison, Pope, Clay, Sevier, Little River and Saline.

Columbia, Garland, Washington, Pulaski, Jackson, Drew and Phillips county programs are planning to set aside funds to carry on the work.

Claim Mooney Is Innocent Man

Will their story free Tom Mooney, who has served 13 years of a life sentence for the San Francisco bomb outrage on Preparedness Day in 1916? Above is Mrs. Dora Mooney (shown with her husband, George) living on a farm near Belleaire, Ohio, who says that her brother, Louis Smith (inset) confessed to her just before his death in Cleveland in 1922 that he hurled the bomb. At the right is Frank O. Stevens, inmate of the Soldiers' Home at Dayton, Ohio, who told of Smith's alleged confession in a letter to Senator Thos. D. Schull, of Minnesota, thus opening the present investigation.

D. A. R. Membership Is Now At Highest Point

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP) — More women—171,840—are now enrolled in the D. A. R. than at any time in the history of the society.

Since the society was organized, more than 350,000 women who are direct descendants of soldiers of the American revolution have joined, but death has reduced that number about half.

At its last meeting the board welcomed 2,700 new members, the largest number ever reported at one time. They were all enrolled since June 5.

Unwritten Law No Go In Italy

No Defense In Murder
Trial To Plead This Defense.

ROME, Nov. 13. (AP) — Murder in the heat of blood, murder for "reasons of honor," and murder under "temporary insanity" are stripped of all pretext for defense and made nothing but plain murder throughout Italy by an order which Alfred Rocco, Minister of Justice, directed to the judges and prosecutors of the Court of Appeals and the Courts of Assize.

Sharply inveighing against "morbid sentimentality" in murder trials, the minister ordered the judges to change their judicial point of view so that murderers of the classes mentioned will not be granted acquittals.

Thus falls another choice fetish of this hoodlumed nation. For generations the belief has been cherished that a husband who murdered the lover of his wife should be freed, that murder committed while the blood was up was not murder, even that murder committed during the blowing of a scirocco—a hot, humid, irritating wind from the African deserts—was excusable.

Juries would not convict in such cases and judges readily freed the prisoners. Only recently a husband who had slain a suitor of his wife was acquitted. Minister Rocco called special attention to this case.

The order directed that judges should admit pleas of temporary insanity only with extreme caution. And even if this plea should actually secure an acquittal, the prisoner is not to be freed, but is to be regarded as a maniac and treated as such.

"Although the fascist regime has undertaken a work of vast social regeneration, there still persist some prejudices and remnants of barbarism and of traditional semi-animalism," said the order. "Not last and least is the so-called law of killing for pretended reasons of honor—a law rooted in the mind of the people to such an extent that they believe that circumstances alone induce the crime of passion. They therefore believe that a husband whose blood was aroused by jealousy and suspicious of conjugal betrayal should be acquitted of murder."

Verdicts, therefore, almost always scandalous as that pronounced recently in the capital itself, are frequently, legalizing through morbid sentimentalism attempts against the sanctity of human life proclaimed inviolable by religion and by law. Following with close attention the Assize trials for murder, I have seen with deep sorrow that, even in the fascist regime, not only do the citizen-jurors augment the discredit of the institution of the jury, but the judges themselves sometimes do not do what is possible for avoiding such acquittals.

"While the work of the fascist government is intensified to educate public opinion by destroying superstitions and prejudices and holding up human life as a divine gift, while more vigorous protection is given to human life in the new penal code, it is necessary that the judges make this work efficacious. I recommend that the prosecutors maintain the letter and spirit of the legislation, without revealing uncertainty over the culpability of the accused, or, worse, lending themselves to morbid sentimentalism."

"Only by these methods can we avoid acquittals that threaten the moral fibre of the nation."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP) — President Hoover today issued a plea for a nation-wide response to the annual Red Cross roll call.

Future Parson Forgets Golden Rule On Phone

BOSTON, Nov. 13. — A theological student at Boston University, if his brothers discover his identity, probably will be lectured on the inadvisability of long distance telephone calls to girl friends.

One of the youths murmured $50 worth of sweet nothings via long distance and "forgot" to sign his name on the dotted call line in Beebe hall, Beacon Hill dormitory.

Wherefore Dean Albert C. Knudson ruled that the telephone be removed.

Head of American Company Dead At Little Rock Home

Hardy Prominent In Life of State for Quarter Century.

KNOWN OVER STATE

Active In Insurance Affairs In State for Many Years.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 13. (AP) — Mosley Wilson Hardy, president of the American Company of Arkansas and senior member of Hardy & Co., insurance agencies, died at his home here today, after an illness of several weeks. He was 50 years old.

For nearly a quarter of a century Hardy had been prominent in banking and insurance circles in the state. He was formerly manager of a cottonseed oil mill at Camden.

At the time of his death he was a director in the First National Bank of El Dorado and an official in many other business enterprises over the state.

A. E. A. In Annual Meeting Thursday

Officials Expect To Try and Take Organization
Out of Politics.

The alleged mingling of state politics with the affairs of the Arkansas Education Association during the last session of the state legislature is expected to be one of the major topics of discussion at the association's annual meeting in Little Rock Thursday and Friday, it was indicated in statements issued Tuesday afternoon by D. T. Henderson, superintendent of Pulaski county schools, who is one of the recognized leaders in the state's educational activities.

A determined effort is expected to be made to take the organization out of politics and the election of officers of the association this year will be more than the usual interest. Officers of the association are elected by the association except the executive secretary, who is selected by the board of directors.

Mr. Henderson in his statement declared that the school leaders in the last legislature had not represented the Arkansas Education Association although they claimed for their program the support of the teachers and educational leaders of the state.

Many of the teachers from this section are leaving for Little Rock this afternoon to be on hand for the opening session of the association Thursday morning. A half holiday in the schools was declared today and there will be no school either Thursday or Friday.

Whether the appendix was ruptured was not immediately known. One of the physicians attending the office stepped out of the operating room long enough to say that a serious condition had been encountered.

The operation was prolonged considerably by the complications encountered.

Effort To Rob Navy Supply Store Fails

Eight Men Work Five Hours In Desperate Attempt To Open Safe.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP) — Eight men, carrying pistols in their hands, drove up to the Navy Supply house in Brooklyn at one o'clock this morning, overpowered the officer of the day and his guards and worked for nearly five hours in an unsuccessful attempt to force the safe which was said to have contained $86,000.

Failing in their objective, the men fled in their automobile. A preliminary check indicated that nothing of value was gone from the building.

Sister of Former Kaiser Succumbs

End Comes In Poverty and Loneliness At Age
of 63.

BERLIN, Nov. 13. (AP) — Frau Alexandra Zuhoff, 63, Princesse von Prussia, sister of the former German Kaiser, and grand daughter of Queen Victoria, died today in her modest residence here, ending one of the strangest romances written in the records of European royalty.

Death came as she slept and followed a brief illness begun last week after her husband, Alexander Zuhoff, Russian adventurer 34 years her junior, had been served with divorce papers on her behalf. Frau Zuhoff, when she married the last time in 1927 renounced her right as Princess, and accepted estrangement from her family.

Though the fatal illness came on her a few days ago her last month was far from a happy one, spent in her most modest quarters here in loneliness, poverty and disillusionment.

Just a month ago she was forced to auction off heirlooms of great value to get funds to pay the debts of her adventurous husband.

Reports to the Quorum Court

Report of County Judge
To the Honorable Quorum Court of Hemphill County, Arkansas:

This is my seventh report to this Court when meeting in its annual session.

I would like to review the entire year's work, but as my activities are mostly in the field and not in the office, it is almost impossible to hold your attention to the things that are constantly coming up for consideration.

The paucity of the county have only received the scant consideration the money appropriated would allow. I would like to make it more comfortable for them, but it seems that we are in the midst of extravagance. Next all the appropriations play out before the beginning of the fiscal year, which, this year, begins one week earlier than last year.

The upkeep of the court house and yards have been negligible this year and if nothing happens to prevent, the expense next year will be practically the same.

My bridges, I think, are in fairly good condition. I have bought practically five car loads of bridges and culverts since I have been County Judge. We need many more before all the streams and ditches will have been made safe for travel. No one will question that steel bridges are more economical than wooden structures. It is my intention, if possible, to buy more steel and culverts for the important places. As this is an age of travel it seems to me that I am compelled to make these purchases. I only put up these bridges and culverts when the old ones give way. So you see we have to either construct with wood or steel.

The road work has been expensive and in addition to the three tractors that put gravel on the worst places. Now, I would like for you to understand that it is utterly impossible for me to repair all the places that need work. Our Highway and Road District funds are nearly out with winter coming on. My recommendation to the various overseers is the care and upkeep of all the main lines. There are the different mail routes, the milk routes and the school bus routes that have to be cared for. These last two have been added to considerably in the last twelve months.

Our Circuit Courts expenses have been going higher and higher for the last three years. Additional expenses have been placed upon the county by the last two legislatures while no additional revenues have been provided to care for same. The County Clerk and County Assessor pay in a nominal sum, but with this in, we still have to pay out more money than formerly.

I would recommend that you make the necessary appropriations for the county's expenses and in those expenses I would ask that you include the two hospitals at Hope. To my certain knowledge both of these institutions do charity work and if one received aid from the county the other should be considered in making your allowances.

I would recommend the following appropriations:

Salaries of County Officers... $14,500.00
County Courts... 1,000.00
J. F. Courts... 1,000.00
Circuit Courts... 12,500.00
Jail Expenses... 5,000.00
Assessment and Tax Books... 1,000.00
Records and Stationary... 2,000.00
Paupers... 1,000.00
Miscellaneous Expenses... 2,000.00
Bridges... 1,500.00
Court House and Jail... 1,000.00

Total... $40,500.00

To take care of this and the assessment being $8,131,955.00, we seem to be compelled to levy a five mill tax to cover the above appropriations.

Respectfully Submitted,
JOHN L. WILSON
County Judge.

Suggested Appropriations

Financial report or appropriations,
Quorum Court November 1929.

We your Committee recommend the following appropriations:

Salaries for County Officers... $14,500.00
County Courts... 1,000.00
J. F. Courts... 1,000.00

Name Commission To Investigate Dr. Smith's Faith

Sharp Discussion On Floor of Presbytery Over Procedure.

EVOLUTION IS CAUSE

Minister's Belief On That Theory Causes Faith
Questioned.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 13. (AP) — A sharp debate over the course of procedure to be taken in the investigation of rumors as to the soundness of the faith of Dr. Hay Watson Smith, Little Rock Presbyterian minister, followed the formal presentation of the question before the Arkansas Presbytery today.

The resolution was introduced by Chas. T. Coleman, attorney and delegate to the Presbytery, representing Dr. Smith, in a motion providing for the appointment of a commission to make inquiry into the charges and brought the matter before the convention.

The resolution introduced named the commission to be appointed. This met with strenuous objection and subsequently led to the introduction of a substitute motion leaving the naming of those to conduct the inquiry in the hands of the Moderator, he himself to be one of the number. No action had been taken on either resolution when the Presbytery took a short recess just before the noon hour.

Dr. R. F. Patterson, of Morrilton, who had the floor at the adjournment to 1:30, declared that if the views of Dr. Smith on evolution "and other questions touching upon his belief" raised are to be considered by the Presbytery then "one of you ought to have the sense to present the charges and not have them come in by way of the Augusta, Ga., Presbytery."

Dr. Patterson said he did not believe a majority of the members of the General Assembly voted on the injunction to the Arkansas Presbytery and said in his opinion if it was again presented it would be overwhelmingly defeated.

Smith Listens Closely

Dr. Smith listened attentively to the proceedings and during a sharp clash between Dr. J. F. Lawson, of Little Rock, and Mr. Coleman, over a statement by the former that "Coleman was not acting in good taste to appear as an attorney for Smith and as a delegate to the convention," moved his chair alongside that of Coleman. He frequently consulted with Coleman as other questions of procedure were brought up.

Restents Being Named

Dr. Patterson said he resented being named in the resolution presented by Coleman, though his name was mentioned in the resolution. "It looks as if an attempt is to be made to whitewash somebody," he said, "and I do not want my name used in any whitewash proceedings at any time." Coleman rose to deny that the resolution had intended any such thing.

Pantages Permitted To Pay Visit To Wife

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13. (AP) — Having been allowed a five-hour visit to the bedside of his wife, Alexander Pantages was back in jail here today awaiting the filing of an appeal from his conviction and sentence of from one to 50 years in prison for a statutory offense against Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer.

Mrs. Lois Pantages, wife of the wealthy theatre man, recently was granted 10 years' probation from her conviction of manslaughter in connection with the death after an automobile collision of Juro Rokumoto, Japanese gardener. She was reported by her physician and members of her family to be seriously ill.

Pantages was released under guard to visit his wife, on an order signed by Superior Judge Charles E. Atkinson, who presided at his trial. District Attorney Burton Pitts presented no objections to the order.

Eunice Pringle Is Bribery Witness

Case Grows Out of Trial of Pantages for Assault.

LOS ANGELES, Cal. Nov. 13. (AP) — Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old accused of Alexander Pantages, theatre multimillionaire, who has been sentenced to serve one to 50 years in state prison for assaulting her, appeared in Superior Court today as a witness in another trial growing out of the one in which Pantages was convicted.

The case was that of Harold Dalley, former federal prohibition agent, who went on trial before Superior Judge Emmett H. Wilson on charges of attempting to bribe and tamper with a witness in the Pantages trial. The witness, Ivan Samostoff, accused Dalley of attempting to bribe him to give testimony that would blacken the character of Miss Pringle, a dancer.

Legion Post To Be Host To Auxiliary

State and District Heads Guests of Evening At Banquet.

Thursday evening, November 14, the host post of the American Legion Auxiliary and more than 100 reservation for places at the banquet have been received.

Among the out-of-town guests of the evening will be Mrs. Allison, state secretary of the Auxiliary, and either Claude Brown, R. W. Sisson or Hugh Wicker, state adjutant, and Winford Lake, district commander from DeQuincy.

At this meeting Commander Hamm, on behalf of the post, will present to the Auxiliary a check for $100 to enable them to get properly started off, and at the same time will enlist their aid in rounding out the Legion's membership drive to where all eligible men in Hope territory will be active Legion members. A membership of 100 is the Legion's local goal here and Commander Hamm is confident of reaching that mark.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP) — Elopement of William W. Willock, Jr., social register and heir to a fortune, with Adelaide Ingelbrecht, 20-year-old chambermaid at the home, became known today.

Mr. Willock, senior partner of the firm of Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., confirmed the news this morning.

Asked whether he was reconciled to the marriage he said: "I have no desire to reply to that question."

French Legionnaires See Safety Endangered; Member Is Surrendered To Police

Legion to France—that was in 1927. Bennett J. Doty, sentenced to eight years' prison for desertion would be released.

Yet, the correspondent had noted on the desk of Colonel Rollett, commander of the Legion, a stack of telegrams addressed to Bennett J. Doty which had remained undelivered.

"We don't know any Bennett J. Doty here," the colonel volunteered. "We know one Gilbert Clare of Memphis, Tenn., but I don't suppose you are interested in him."

Clare was the name under which Doty had enlisted and been sentenced. Recently two Paris detectives arrived at Sidi-Bel-Abbes and told the colonel: "We have a warrant here for Gaston Froissart who killed his grandmother with an axe in 1926, robbed her and then enlisted in the Legion as Rene Bernard."

"Prove to me that Bernard and Froissart are the same man," the colonel asked.

Barnard was sent for, but no measurements were produced, establishing the identity of the man as Froissart.

"You can have him," said the colonel.

Froissart is on his way to Paris to go before the Assises and many of his former companions in the Legion are wondering whether this means a radical change in the policy which they had always believed ruled in the dealings of the Legion authorities with the plain clothes police.

Hope's Trade Territory

PLANS for a series of monthly Trade Days will get under way here November 22 and 23. The event is sponsored by some of the local merchants, with whom The Star is co-operating.

It was observed in the announcement published yesterday that a special trade event was necessary because of the activity of other cities close by, working far into the Hope territory. This brings to mind the extent of Hope's trade area, and the absolute necessity of making strenuous efforts to keep this city before the eyes of people outside our own county.

Practically every major business house in Hope was established or developed here because of our trade territory. The population of the city of Hope alone would support only a small fraction of the capital invested in commercial enterprises.

The continued growth and prosperity of the city depends upon a united effort of all Hope business houses to maintain the city's prestige a long ways out into the trade territory. The division of trade, once it gets here, is relatively less important than the problem of bringing trade to this city when our neighboring cities are working day and night to get some of that trade for themselves. If there are enough people on the streets of a city it is pretty good logic to suppose that most of the merchants of that city will prosper to a greater or lesser degree. But the city which limits its fighting to competition purely among its own business houses, is in grave danger of letting some interloper make away with the trade territory.

Hope, more than any city in Arkansas, needs to think of the country beyond the line where the pavement ends. That country built our city; that country will make it many times larger than today—if it treats the country right.

The "Talkie" and the Crook

IT is quite possible that the Philadelphia police authorities, who made a talking movie of an arrested man's confession to a crime, have hit upon a development that will be of far reaching importance in American criminological practice.

Safety Director Schofield, of Philadelphia, believes that all police stations will soon have their own studios in which they will make "talkies" of all prisoners as soon as they are arrested.

"The advantages of moving-talking pictures over the present roguish gallery portraits is that they will enable a person looking at the pictures to identify a criminal by his speech, walk and characteristic movements," he says.

"At present it is often impossible to identify a criminal from still pictures because he is seen from a different angle. With talking and moving pictures we can get a complete resemblance from every angle."

There is another way, even more important, to our mind, in which the talkie camera can be of service.

Once a man is arrested, the police always try to get a confession from him. Often they succeed. But we have heard so much about the "third degree" the juries sometimes do not accept these confessions. A prisoner on trial will repudiate his confession, saying it was obtained through torture or mistreatment; and the jury often believes him.

Suppose, now, that a "talkie" of the prisoner making his confession is shown the jury. Instantly it becomes perfectly evident whether or not there was undue coercion. An important loophole for criminals is closed—and, at the same time, the prisoner is protected from police brutality.

The "talkie" may well have a profound effect on police procedure.

High Vs. Low

IT is odd to see those senators who have always fought for a high tariff struggling—unsuccessfully—to put manganese ore on the free list, while the progressives, who have always voted for low rates, compelled them to restore the duty that had previously been removed.

Such, however, are the vagaries of politics. The fact that the duty on manganese was removed at the behest of the great steel corporations doubtless explains much. The average progressive is automatically against anything that the giant industries favor, especially where the tariff is involved.

Will This Be the Next Great "Relief" Campaign?

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—A sad world and at the moment nothing in it seems much sadder than the case of Uncle Andrew Mellon, the second or third richest man in the world.

To goodness knows how many flat-topped stock market speculators Uncle Mellon has suddenly become a fallen idol. There was, you may recall, a suicide note in the land that as long as Uncle Mellon remained in charge of the national finances nothing could happen to business and the stock market but bigger profits and better prices. Thus, untoward business developments and bad days on the exchange were frequently attributed to the mad recent reports that he was going to resign.

Suddenly Mr. Hoover stomped down on those annoying reports with the public announcement that Uncle Mellon would serve out his four year term as secretary of the treasury. The explanation was that this announcement would serve to make Wall Street happy and encourage investors. After that, everything was supposed to be easy in the world of commerce and finance.

And Then It Happened
After that, as a matter of fact, came the deluge. Which a fortnight after the country had been reassured about Uncle Mellon the stock market plunged into the grandest series of crashes in its history. It couldn't have been any worse had the secretary been summarily fired. Of course you can't blame it on "the greatest secretary of the treasury since Hamilton," but it does seem to have punctured what might be called the Mellon myth.

Uncle Mellon remains a remarkable man for all that. He is going to serve 12 years at the head of the treasury, breaking all records. And the strangest part of it is that in the last eight years he has been subject to a steady and more vigorous stream of criticism than any other cabinet member who can be recalled. The Mellon critics never let up. There is little of which he hasn't been accused. Various attempts have been made to force him out. And yet here he is, still active in his 60th year and holding onto his dearly beloved job like grim death.

Mr. Hoover, there is every good reason to believe, had expected Uncle Mellon to resign within a year after satisfaction of his playful ambition to serve under three presidents. All the boys "close to Hoover," on and off the White House payroll, seemed to agree about that. They were pretty well agreed as to whom Hoover had picked to succeed him. As time went on, however, some began to express the fear that Uncle Mellon might forget.

Now one story is that he suddenly grew very sour about these constant rumors of his impending resignation and went right over to the White House about it. And that the president hastily assured him that nothing was further from the presidential mind than the hope that he would quit. Because, after all, Uncle Mellon is a very powerful person, and it would not do Mr. Hoover the least bit of good to have him walk out in a huff. It might even have seriously disturbed the stock market. So Mr. Hoover announced to the world that Mr. Mellon was in until 1937.

Another current explanation—and perhaps a more likely one—is that, as Mr. Hoover began to override his policies and push him further and further into the background, Uncle Mellon began to freeze him. He missed some cabinet meetings and sat silent and grim at others. Thus he got Mr. Hoover to worrying until the president decided the best thing to do was to make that announcement.

They called this bear market a readjustment. That's a good word to remember if you ever happen to go broke in a poker game.

The original Walling Wall is in Palestine, but there hasn't been a great deal of laughing done recently along the walls of Wall Street, either.

George Bernard Shaw says that if the young people are not better than the old, he doesn't know what's going to happen to the world. That must have been a bitter admission for George to make—that he didn't know something.

Modern furniture may be all right, but there's always the danger of friend husband sleeping in the waste-basket.

The span of life is still fixed at 80 years, say a mortality statistician. That may be true for the men folk, but grandpas just started being kitchy at that age.

President Hoover says the test of good neighbors is to borrow half a dozen eggs. If they ask for them back they are not good neighbors.

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels, take Baelmann's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach gas and all the bad effects resulting from gas pressure.

That empty, gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach will disappear; that anxious, nervous feeling with heart palpitation will vanish, and you will again be able to take a deep breath without discomfort.

That drowsy, sleepy feeling after dinner will be replaced by a desire for entertainment. Bloating will cease. Your limbs, arms and fingers will no longer feel cold and "go to sleep" because Baelmann's Gas Tablets prevent gas from interfering with the circulation. Get the genuine in the yellow package, at any good drug store. Price 51.

by HAROLD BELL WRIGHT

Harold B.

Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these My brethren, even these last, ye did it unto Me. Matthew 25:40.

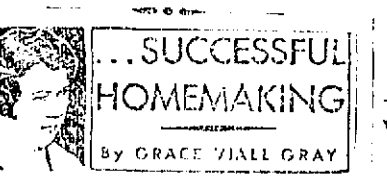

And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and took him to task, saying, Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? And he said unto him, What is written in the law? How readest thou? And he answered said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. And He said unto him, Thou hast answered right; this do, and thou shalt live. Luke 10:25-28.

The life is more than food, and the body than the raiment. Luke 12:23.

COMMENT
To me, this sentence expresses what with no incoherence I like to think of as the earthly philosophy of Jesus. As a simple truth of what holds a germ of life which is capable of producing all the fine of the world will ever need, this saying holds the vital germ of all that Jesus taught, running nearly right down to our earth.

HOT ROLLS

Where is the person who doesn't like hot rolls? And yet, knowing this to be a fact, many women never attempt making hot rolls for their families. Thinking it is a difficult process. Making hot rolls is easy. Once a housewife starts making them, she will always make them. Her friends will demand them when they come visiting, and almost over night she will have a reputation for making rolls that fairly "melt in your mouth."

The recipe I am going to give you requires little kneading and handling and only a short time of mixing until ready for the oven.

Every Member of the Family Welcomes Hot Rolls.

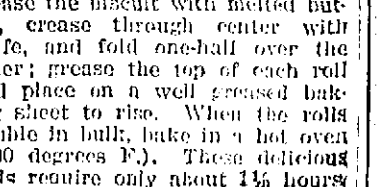

The secret of this quickness lies in the fact that we use soft wheat and plenty of yeast. We roll them Parker House rolls, and you make them as follows:

2 cups scalded 6 to 7 cups soft milk
2 tsp. sugar 1 1/2 tsp. salt
2 compressed 2 eggs, fat

Squid the milk, add the sugar, and let cool until it is lukewarm; add the yeast and stir until it is dissolved. Then beat in enough flour to make a soft batter. Add the salt and fat and stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Place on a floured board and knead just enough to obtain a smooth dough. Place the dough in a greased bowl, cover with a cloth, and let stand until the dough is double in bulk; cut with a large biscuit cutter, grease the biscuit with melted butter, crease through center with knife, and fold one-half over the other; grease the top of each roll and place on a well greased baking sheet to rise. When the rolls double in bulk, bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.). These delicious rolls require only about 1 1/2 hours.

After December 1, all work will be strictly cash except to merchants.

Washes, Carries Coal, Woman Gains 18 Pounds

"I wash, iron and carry coal and don't get tired since taking Vinol. Also I have gained 18 pounds."—Mrs. S. Cortese.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver, peptone, etc. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Tastes delicious. John S. Gibson Drug Co. —Adv.

And may we be kind and true,
And greet all men in a gracious way,
With frank good cheer in the things
we say,
With love in the deeds we do,
With the golden levers of love and plans for Thursday evening's dance and expect it to be the liveliest affair of the fall season. Talbot Feild, Elks secretary, advises that he is assured the troubadours, musical organization secured for the evening will be of the highest quality. The announcement made by the younger set from a number of nearby cities notified Mr. Feild of their intention to be in attendance.

"WISE GIRLS" FUNNIEST OF DOMESTIC COMEDIES
"Wise Girls," a talking motion pic-theatre, is a very funny domestic comedy of a pestered father with two excess girls to marry, and of "Kempy James," a timid young plumber, who turns into a lion under the stress of circumstances. Metro-Goldwyn-Way-

Hot Comedy In "Clear the Decks" at New Grand

One of the most entertaining and really funny comedies seen in many months, "Clear the Decks," Universal's latest production, starring the fascinating Reginald Denny, is being shown at the New Grand Theatre
Thursday and Friday.

It is a hurricane of laughs and keeps the audience in a constant state of mirth from the opening "shot" to the final "clouey." If the reaction of the spectators is at all accurate as an indicator, this picture should add immensely to Mr. Denny's already overwhelming popularity.

Denny portrays the part of a young millionaire, recently returned from an extensive trip to Africa, who falls in love with a strange girl whom he sees in a dining room of an exclusive hotel. He is unable to ascertain her name but learns that she is sailing that day for an ocean voyage.

To party leaders he was just another new member, another vote for their program, presumably.
They were mistaken. Had they been able to peer down the years they would have known that an actor around whom far-reaching events would turn had stepped upon the national political stage.

For this son of an Ohio farmer was to figure almost at once in intra-party strife. He was to brand Speaker
"Uncle Joe" Cannon as the "iron duke" of the house almost before he had settled in his house seat. He was to lead in a revolt that swept his party out of power.

And from that hour on Norris was to be his own kind of a republican;
to be moving spirit in the making of the rift in party ranks in the senate as he was in the house; to guide the coalition forces in the tariff battle to the moment when by more than two-thirds majority the senate voted con-sure on Bingham of Connecticut, an old guard stalwart.

The Avenging Parrot

©1929 by NEA
Serialized by H. C.

By Anne Austin, author of
The Black Pigeon, River Wives, etc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Mrs. Emma Hogarth is strangled to death in her room on the second floor of Mrs. Rhodes' boarding house, where she was confined because of heart trouble. Reputed miser, she had her will frequently changed to name a new favorite among the boarders.

Bonnie Dundee, young detective, assists his chief, Lieut. Strawn, in the investigation. Strawn immediately suspects a former boarder, Emil Sevier, who, he learns, left town that night on the one o'clock train. A doctor next door reports having seen a man running down the alley about 12:10.

Dundee, stationed behind a screen, takes notes as Strawn quizzes the boarders. Henry Danon, newcomer, out of work, insists he was in his room all evening and heard nothing but the squeaking of Cap'n Mrs. Hogarth's parrot, Cora Barker, theater pianist, is next given a merciless third degree. She tells of her date with another boarder, Bert Magnus, amateur scenario writer, of how he failed to appear and her return to the room to hear him typing at 12:10. She explains her bandaged hand by saying it is an electric iron burn. When Strawn demands to know why Mrs. Hogarth cut her out of her will she evades answering. She admits that Sevier made love to her but denies any knowledge of his part in the crime.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharp are brought in next. Mrs. Sharp is dressed to catch a train, saying she is going to her boy who is in trouble in a nearby college town. They tell of seeing Walter Styles and his fiancée, Norma Paige, go to Mrs. Hogarth's door, of Mrs. Hogarth's anger with Styles, and later of Norma's suspicious disappearance from the second floor bath. Norma is brought in. She admits she was the latest waitress and that Mrs. Hogarth was angry at her because of her engagement to Styles. She admits also she went to Styles' room, later to tell him of the interview. Styles corroborates Norma's story but admits he left his room after Norma's departure. When asked if he was angry at Mrs. Hogarth, he says, "Yes, I was." Magnus, insists he typed all evening until 12:15. Word is received that Sevier disappeared off the train. A detective comes in with a real clue—a green parrot's father is found in the lining of Dusty Rhodes' tweed cap. Mrs. Rhodes recalls having seen it last in the hall chest, where Sevier was searching for his rubbers. The parrot startles the group by yelling "Bad Penny!"

CHAPTER XVII
"Grin—blast you!" Lieutenant Strawn growled at his young assistant on the Hogarth case, but the exultant triumph in Bonnie Dundee's blue eyes was not so easily dampened.

"Mrs. Rhodes, did you ever hear Cap'n say those words before—bad penny?" Bonnie asked eagerly.

"No. You could have knocked me down with one of Cap'n's littlest feathers," the landlady answered. "That bird does beat all! I never saw a parrot pick up new words like he does—but he never would repeat any thing but what he heard poor old Mrs. Hogarth say."

"You're sure those words have never been a part of his vocabulary before?" Dundee persisted, strangely excited.

"Of course, I'm sure!" Mrs. Rhodes snapped. "I've set with Mrs. Hogarth every evening of the five years she's been here, and she'd have bragged to me about Cap'n picking up these words, if he'd ever said them before. Of course I wasn't the last one to see her alive this evening. Norma paid her a visit after I left, you know and it may be that Mrs. Hogarth made some remark with 'Bad Penny' in it while she was talking to Norma."

"Well, I'll soon find out," Strawn said, abruptly, starting for the door. "By the way, Mrs. Rhodes, when I first came this evening, you said you weren't sure as to whether Daisy Shepherd was in her room or not."

"Well, that Detective Payne and I found she was, when we went up to tell her that Mrs. Hogarth was dead. But she wasn't in it at five minutes after 12, or if she was, she was so sound asleep she didn't hear me knocking and calling to her."

"What's this?" Strawn demanded sharply. "Why haven't you mentioned this before?"

"Reckon you haven't give me much chance," Mrs. Rhodes reminded him grimly. "About two minutes after 12, after I'd gone to bed, the telephone rang. It was a long distance for Daisy, and I went up to her room on the third floor by the back stairs to call her. She didn't answer, and I went down and told long distance she was out. I don't know where she was and I didn't see her come in, because I went back to bed."

When he had dismissed Mrs. Rhodes, Strawn called in Detective Payne, heard his report that so far no hidden sum of money had been found in any of the rooms, and instructed him to bring in, Daisy Shepherd, for questioning.

"Back in a minute Dundee," Strawn called, as he himself was about to leave the room. "I'm going to ask the Paige girl if she knows anything about this 'Bad Penny' business—not that I think it's worth wasting a minute's time on."

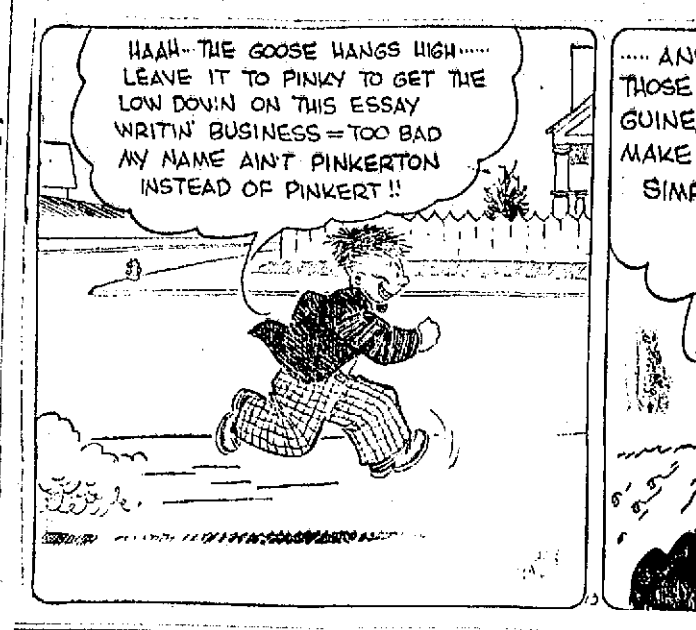

Dundee grinned, then again seated himself behind the screen. Mrs. Hogarth's diary in his hands. Before beginning to read it from the first entry, he rifled the leaves, to dislodge any memo, letter or card that might have been thrust into the book. In doing so, he made a discovery which caused him to purse his lips in a low whistle of surprise.

A page from the diary had been torn out—the entry for May 19. May—May—He frowned mightily in an effort to remember. Oh, yes! Cora Barker had said—He turned swiftly to his notes, found Cora Barker's story, located the sentence he was trying to remember: "So I was Mrs. Hogarth's heirless, until—sometime in May, I believe it was, when she became very fond of Walter Styles, a new boarder."

He was glad now that he had taken such full notes, even to the extent of indicating hesitation, between words by dashes. Cora Barker had been disappointed, "sometime in May." Could the date have been May 19? Dundee very carefully examined the fuzzy edge of the remainder of the torn-out sheet. There was no doubt that the tear was a recent one. Had the sheet been removed that very night? And had the entry been such that it incriminated the one whom it concerned?

Sevier and Cora Barker! After all, why look further for the old woman's murderer, when she herself had believed, those two to be in a conspiracy to rob her? But Cora Barker had not returned to the house until 10 minutes after 12. Or so she said. And it was scarcely likely that she would have named the theater manager as a corroborator of her alibi if she had not been sure that he would uphold her story.

But Sevier and Cora Barker had talked together at the theater that evening. Had the final details of the plot been agreed upon then? But ice box, I guess," Daisy laughed without rancor. "Well, I helped myself to a few raspberries out of a big bowl on the top shelf, took a slice of boiled ham from an oiled-paper package of it on the bottom shelf, and

He made a discovery which caused him to purse his lips in a low whistle of surprise.

if so, how had Cora Barker helped Emil Sevier, without being on the scene of the crime while it was being committed?

"Bad penny," the parrot croaked sleepily.

Dundee was startled for a moment, then he grinned. "Thanks for reminding me, Cap'n," he called softly.

"Have you gone so crazy over this case that you're talking to yourself?" Strawn asked, returning at that moment. "Well, boy, you're right—not that I think it amounts to a hill of beans. The Paige girl says she is positive the words 'Bad penny' did not come up in her conversation with the old lady, and that the parrot has never spoken them before, or Mrs. Hogarth would have told her. But you've gone nuts from the heat if you think that bird—Come in!"

Daisy Shepherd, escorted by Detective Payne, who immediately withdrew, stifled a genuine-looking yawn as she took the chair beside Mrs. Hogarth's desk. Her big healthy body was clad in nightgown and kimono.

"Excuse me," she smiled at the chief of detectives. "I want to sleep waiting for you to call for me."

"Sorry to disturb you," Strawn apologized abruptly. "Where were you at 12 o'clock this evening, Miss Shepherd? To save time, I may as well tell you that there was a long distance call for you at two minutes after 12, and that Mrs. Rhodes was not able to find you to answer it."

"A long distance call?" Daisy Shepherd was startled wide awake. "Where was it from? Did Mrs. Rhodes say?"

"No. Were you expecting such a call?"

"I was not! I haven't the least idea who could be calling me long distance."

"Where were you at 12 o'clock and a few minutes afterward?" Strawn pressed.

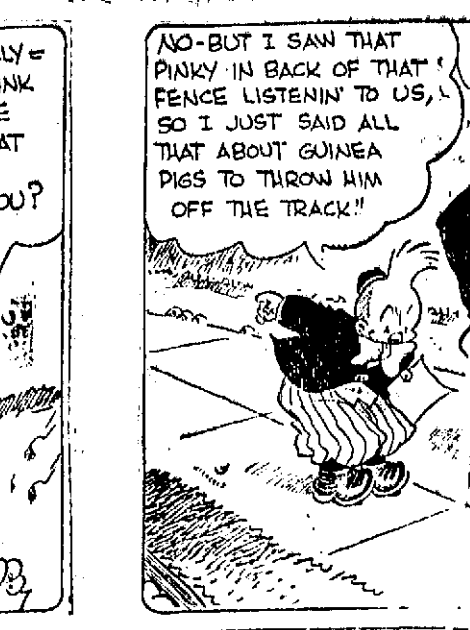

"Well," the big young woman laughed ruefully. "I guess this'll teach me a lesson. If you've got to know, lieutenant Strawn, I was down in the kitchen raiding the ice box. My appetite is something fierce, and I'd been lying in bed since half past 10 reading a book that was simply full of descriptions of swell dinners in Paris. I've been boarding here long enough to make myself pretty much at home, and I knew Mrs. Rhodes wouldn't begrudge me a midnight supper, so I sneaked down the back stairs to the kitchen."

"Pardon me, Miss Shepherd," Strawn interrupted. He strode to the door, closed it behind him, was gone about five minutes, and returned looking well pleased with himself.

"All right, Miss Shepherd. Please go on. What did you find to eat?"

"You've been down checking the

Kentucky Teams In 50-Year Fued

Golden Anniversary of Football In South November 16.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The golden anniversary of football in the south will be celebrated here Nov. 16 when Transylvania college of Lexington and Centre renew their feud of a half-century ago.

In the stands will be captains of the first football teams in the south, Edward H. Ernst of Centre and Dr. J. L. Patterson of Transylvania. Other players of 50 years ago still living have been invited to the contest.

Centre and Transylvania, whose gridiron series is the oldest below the Mason-Dixon line, played the first Dixie football tilt April 9, 1839, and a week later met again, Transylvania, then known as Kentucky university, winning, both games.

The game was introduced in Kentucky by Charles Thurgood, an Australian, who remodeled the sport of his native land to conform with the style of play of American colleges in the east. Thurgood coached the Lexington team in 1879 and later went to Danville to prepare Centre for the clash.

The Transylvania lineup in the pioneer feud included John Fox, Jr., the author, and J. L. Patterson, who later became chancellor of the University of Louisville.

DID YOU KNOW THAT?—Heinie Miller, coach at Temple and former famous end, says football players should take it easy in the summer time. . . . Some of the boys along the coast are saying that some of the great athletes of the east are from the Pacific region. . . . Thus, Sabin Carr, from Santa Barba. . . . Moon Mullins from Pasadena. . . . Barry Wood from Thatcher School in the Ojai valley. . . . The Hawaiian University football team is called the "Shy Violets." . . . Jim Thorpe has gone in for golf. . . . The four Hudkins brothers are Ace, Al, Art and Ah. . . . Ernest Henry Smith, Birmingham shortstop, is to have his fling at the majors after seven long years in the minors. . . . He's going to the White Sox.

Technically, Dick Shigat, German wrestling star, has a half nelson and clutch hold on his opponent above but in the parlance of the grappling game he is about to execute the "airplane slam," a stunt that usually leaves the foe in a stunned condition and easily planned to the mat. Centenary Gentleman, Jinx To Conference Teams, Next for A. U.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 12.—When Centenary meets Arkansas on Razorback field here Saturday, it will be the Gentlemen's third game of the season against Southwest Conference teams. The Shreveport team having already met Texas and Baylor. Centenary has long been a jinx for conference eleven. Last season the Louisianians defeated the Texas Aggies, 1927 conference champions, 6 to 0. The previous season they bumped Southern Methodist, 1925 titlists, 21 to 12. This year they have beaten Baylor, a team which trimmed Arkansas.

Saturday's game will mark the second meeting of Centenary and Arkansas, the Razorbacks having taken a 33 to 6 decision from the Gentlemen in 1928.

Indications are that the homecoming clash Saturday will be an even battle. Glen Rose, Razorback freshman coach, scouted Centenary in their game last Saturday with the Arkansas State Teachers and brought back glowing reports of the work of Jake Hanna, the Gentlemen's star halfback, and of Captain Willis, giant Centenary tackle.

"This boy Hanna is plenty good," said Rose. "In spite of the rain and mud last Saturday he gave a splendid exhibition of ball carrying and passing. Arkansas will have to pay special attention to Hanna or he will run wild, especially on a dry field."

Captain Willis is a Dawson, Tex., boy who is playing his third season as regular tackle on the Centenary eleven. Other outstanding performers on the Centenary team are Tommie Younger, who was this year shifted from guard to center; Jimmie Welch, 185-lb. fullback who scored Centenary's first touchdown against Baylor in the upset which the Gentlemen won, 27-12; Alvin Brown, triple threat star; and Dan Finch, backfield flash.

Facing this array of Centenary talent will be the strongest line-up Coach Fred Thomsen of the Razorbacks has been able to put on the field this season. Jack Dale, who has been sick and who did not play against the Oklahoma teachers last Saturday, is improving and will be in the starting lineup. Carnall "Tiny" Gardner, veteran 248-pound tackle who was out of the game for several weeks prior to the Texas A. & M. encounter, will be back in his old position.

In fact, the only Razorback who is definitely out of the homecoming game is Chambers, sophomore end, whose broken finger will keep him on the shelf. However, the performance of Hays at end has been so satisfactory that Chambers probably will not be missed.

Coach Thomsen expressed himself as particularly pleased with the work of his sophomore backs against the Oklahoma teachers. Long runs by Ledbetter and Kyle, and consistent plunging by Butts and Finney, show that this quartet of first-year varsity men have arrived. Ledbetter has been slow in getting under way, but his sprints of 40 and 60 yards against east Central Oklahoma show that Springdale boy has finally found his self. Kyle, the Fort Smith flash, gave a good exhibition of broken-field running and will have an opportunity to make good on his nickname "Cotton boy."

The Razorback air express, composed of Captain Geis, Uptmoor, Mills and Dale, will start the game. Spectators at last Saturday's game missed the Razorback forward passing attack should get plenty of entertainment on Homecoming. Arkansas used only straight football against the Oklahomans, but will probably have to show everything in their repertoire against Centenary.

Officials for Saturday's game have been announced as follows: referee, Olds; Tulsa; umpire, Tittlinger; line judge, head linesman, Garrity; Texas A. & M.; field judge, Campbell; the Rock.

800 Texas High Schools In League

DALLAS, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Coaches of Texas universities and colleges no longer worry about drilling fundamentals into their freshmen athletes. The yearlings already are drilled when they enter college. A state inter-scholastic league of 800 high schools is the training ground from which Texas colleges draw hundreds of athletes.

Athletics in Texas has boomed since the league was organized eight years ago under the auspices of the University of Texas. The unusual number of powerful football eleven in the Southwest conference this year is cited as a result of the league's work. High schools throughout the state have employed the best coaches available since the league began sponsoring statewide championships in football, basketball and track. The class of competition has improved accordingly.

Now state championships are decided every year in those three sports. There are no disputed titles, no uncrowned champions. Every prep school in Texas has an equal chance of producing a title-winning team.

Athlete high, last year's state football champion, boasted a line of 190 pounds to the man and a backfield averaging more than 170 pounds. Athens high, after winning the 1929 state basketball crown, took the national title in Chicago.

the midnight Misadventure of Gregory Jones

A crash brought Mrs. Gregory Jones bolt upright in bed, her heart pounding.

"Why!" demanded her husband savagely, nursing a bruised shin and groping for the light switch. "Why did you have to leave that chair there?"

In the front hall the telephone rang again, insistently. Jones shivered in the draft from the open window, and without waiting for a reply, disappeared through the doorway. Petulantly, his voice drifted back to her.

"No, Eleanor is not here. . . . Yes, we're expecting her tomorrow. . . . Tell her what I'll tell you, young man, that it's an imposition to wake folks at this time of night! And I'll deliver no messages!"

The receiver banged on the hook. Jones, muttering to himself, stumbled back down the hall.

"That settles it!" he exclaimed, still shivering. "Tomorrow, I'll have a telephone put in this bedroom."

Mrs. Jones smiled drowsily, snuggled deep into her pillow.

"Where have I heard that before," she murmured. "Tomorrow, I'll order one, myself."

Telephones where you need them save time, patience and midnight misadventures.

Few know that one or two additional instruments cost considerably less than the single telephone they now have!

By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, and perhaps a rearrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of your telephone service.

"Why did you have that chair there?"

Missouri Lady Took Cardui and Soon Felt Much Stronger and Better.

Springfield, Mo.—"A few years ago, I was in an auto wreck and suffered a nervous shock that caused me to get very weak and run-down," writes Mrs. Henry Johnson, 1201 State Street, this city.

"I was down in bed, getting weaker all the time. Nothing seemed to be doing me any good, or giving me any strength. I couldn't raise up in bed."

Mrs. Johnson says that on the advice of a friend, she decided to try Cardui.

"After I began taking Cardui, I began to get stronger, so of course I kept it up. In a short while I was out of bed, feeling much stronger and better and not so miserable and nervous. Since that time, I have always been glad to say a good word for Cardui."

This well-known medicine is an extract of valuable medicinal herbs and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It has been in use so long its merit has been proved by the experience of thousands of women. Try Cardui in your case.

To the man who can't get a new car this winter - as well as to the new car owner

There's still life in your old car—and power too, if you'll develop it. Try a few tankfuls of ESSO, the super-power fuel. You will actually feel how much better your motor performs with ESSO than it does with ordinary gasoline.

See how much easier it starts on cold mornings, how little need you have for the choke, how much your "get-away" is improved, and gear shifting reduced.

Feel how much smoother and quieter your car runs; the increased power and speed; the absence of fuel knocks and carbon troubles; and how much more pleasure and satisfaction you get out of driving—when ESSO is in the tank.

ESSO improves the performance of all cars, old or new—and positively cannot harm any car. Those who have once tried this super-power fuel seldom go back to ordinary gasoline. Look for the silver pump with the ESSO globe.
